Hongkong, May 27, 1882.

The Overland Thina Mail (The oldest Overland Paper in China.) PUBLISHED AT THE "CHINA MAIL" OFFICE IN TIME FOR THE ENGLISH MAIL.

Containing from 72 to 84 columns of closelyprinted matter. THIS Mail Summary is compiled from the Daily China Mail, is publishedtwice a month on the morning of the English Mail's departure, and is a record of each fortnight's current history of events in China and Japan, contributed in original reports and collated from the journals published at the various ports in those Countries. It contains Shipping news from Shanghai, Hongkong, Canton, &c., and a complete

Commercial Summary. Subscription, 50 cents per Copy (postage paid 52 cents.) $12 per annum (postage paid $12.50.) Orders should be sent to GEO. THE CHINESE MAIL. 17HIS paper is now issued every day. The subscription is fixed at Four Dellars per annum delivered in Hongkong, or Seven Dollars Fifty Cents in cluding postage to Coast ports. It is the first Chinese Newspaper ever issued under purely native direction. The chief support of the paper is of course derived from the native community. amongst whom also are to be found the guarantors and securities necessary to place it on a business and legal footing. The projectors, basing their estimates upon the most reliable information from the various Ports in China and Japan,from Australia, California, Singapore, Pe nang, Saigon, and other places frequented by the Chinese, -consider themselves justified in guaranteeing a large and ever-increasing circulation. The advantages offered to advertisers are therefore unusually great, and the foreign community generally will find it to their interest to avail themselves of The field open to a paper of this description—conducted by native efforts, but progressive and anti-obstructive in toneis almost limitless. It on the one hand commands Chinese belief and interest, while on the other it deserves every aid that can be given to it by foreigners. Like English journals it contains Editorials, with Local, Shipping, and Commercial News and Advertisements. Subscription orders for the above may be

But when we consider how little has ever been attempted by the Government at any time for the education of girls, and how much was sought to be made out of these twelve thousand little boys. who were said by the Governor to be running about in the streets picking up bits of coal and other articles, the detriment of the Central School and the Government system, the statement now made by Dr Eitel (upon the authothis subject. It must not be supposed tliat the erroneous impression as to the exuggerated numbers of these wild little rag-gatherors resulted in any Governor Hennessy, as we have stated, was brimming with promise. It was hitherto been overestimated.

One of the leading characteristics of the Inspector's remarks concerning the Central School is the impartiality and fairness with which he now deals with that institution; and we deem it duty to make a prominent note of this feature because on former occasions we have written strongly upon what could not but be regarded as one-sided and unfair treatment of this School. Indeed, the unbiassed recorder of events in the educational history of this Colony cannot but be impressed with the fact that Governor Hennessy has been the evil genius of educational progress here: and unfortunately the evident impar tiglity with which the existing condition of officies is now treated shuts one un to the conclusion that Sir John Pope Hennessy had a deep meaning and far-seeing cunning in his long-standing acting appointments and in his persistent struggle to subordinate the different departments of the Service to his personal and somewhat crooked rule. It is, however, a good and pleasan thing to find that all the support which has been given in these columns from bearing arms. time to time to the Central School, and to the system there carried on, has been fully justified by the Government Inspector himself; and it is gratifying to find that even the limited accommodstion of the present Central School building is advanced as a reason why the results obtained are even less favourable than they might be with increased space and a larger staff. Sharp, Toller, and Johnson. This case was continued from yesterday when the evidence for the plaintiff was

The defendant put forward a cross petition which was simply to the effect, that having entered into the contract with Yung Lune for the sale to him of a portion of Inland Lot No. 801, for the sum of $34,300, such purchase and sale to be completed within four months from the date, and the suit not being a suit of specific performance but one at common law for damages, that the plaintiff was not ready or willing to complete at the time fixed for the compleat that time had taken no steps whatever towards having the contract finished. It was further alleged for the defendant, the suit not being a suit for specific performance and time being of the essence of the contract, and there being a failure on the part of the plaintiff to purchase and complete, and as the plaintiff was not ready and willing at the proper day to tender was gone, and contrary to common law. The evidence for the defence was that there was no default or defect whatever on the part of Tang Alok, and that tors, Messre Sharp, Toller and Johnson, and there was no defect with reference to them. Not only had no application been made on the plaintiff's behalf to inspect these deeds, but Tang Alok and Mr Guedes had repeatedly applied for the plaintiff to do so and complete. The delay was caused by the plaintiff who applied for further time. when a delay was granted. A month having elapsed from the date on which the contract should have been completed the defence that the plaintiff was not entitled to the damages asked for.

Evidence was heard for the defence, and after Counsel had addressed the Court. Lordship intimated that he would reserve

THE TREATIES WITH COREA.

N. C. D. News.) The English Treaty with Corea is to all effects and purposes the same as that negotiated by the United States. Now the more the American treaty is considered the clearer does it appear that the interests which have been principally considered by its framers are those of China. Corea will, of course, get some benefit from the Customs revenue, and foreigners will be allowed to make what they can in an unfavourable position where their trade will be hampered in every way; but China will gain great advantages immediately. In his eagerness to secure anything which might be called a treaty, the United States negotiator accepted terms that fall far short of those he might reasonably have expected to have had conceded to him. The English Admiral has blindly followed his lead, and the result, we suppose, will be that the treaty as it stands will be confirmed by Her Majesty. The advantages it will give to trade are problematical, and their extent will depend upon the scale of import duties which is to be established by the Corean officials. If these are fixed at anything near to the maximum rates mentioned in the treaty, it is quite impossible that the trade of foreigners in Corea can be large. But arrangements may be concerted between the Chinese and Corean officials which will virtually hand over the trade in mports to the Chinese. The first clause of the treaty contains an acknowledgement by Corea of the suzerainty of China, which is not much affected by the intimation that "henceforth" the peninsular kingdom intends to manage its own home and foreign affairs. The relations between the two countries render any commercial treaty unnecessary. They will regulate their relations with each other by private arrangements about which the outside world will know nothing. Supposing the Corean officials to place a heavy import duty on English Grey Shirtings and similar articles when these are imported in foreign steamers, and a considerably lower duty when they are imported in Chinese vessels, foreign traders would be driven from the Corean trade which would pass wholly into the hands of the Chinese. It may be said that the Corean Government is not likely to do this, but on the contrary we think that something of the kind is meditated and is one of the schemes of Li Hungtrade of these parts for their countrymen. tens, kept in the open sir in a shaded situation. THE CHINA REVIEW. PUBLISHED BI-MONTHLY

TENTH YEAR.

TIMIS Review, which was intended to meet the wants of many students of Chinese caused by the discontinuance of "Notes and Querics on China and Japan," has reached its Tenth Volume. The Review discusses those topics which are uppermost in the minds of students of the "Far East" and about which every intelligent person connected with China or Japan is desirous of acquiring trustworthy information. It includes many interesting Notes and original Papers on the Arts, Sciences, Ethnology, Folklore, Geography, History, Literature, Mythology, Natural History, Antiquities, and Social Manners and Customs, etc., etc., of China, Japan, Mongolia, Tibet, and the Far East generally. Recently a new departure has been taken, and the Review now gives papers on Trade, Commerce, and Descriptive notes of Travel by well-known writers. It was thought that by extending the scope of the Review in this direction, the Magazine would be made more generally

The Review department receives special attention, and endeavours are made to present a careful and concise record of Literature on China etc., and to give critiques embodying sketches of the Most recent works on such topics. Authors and Publishers are requested to forward works to "Editor, China Review, care of China Mail Office.

The Notes and Queries are still continued and form an important means of obtaining -from and diffusing among students know ledge on obscure points.

The Correspondents column also allorus farther and greater facilities for the inter change of views and discussion of various Original contributions in Chinese, Latin, or any of the Modern Languages are recoived. The papers are contributed by the members of the various Consular, the Inperial Customs, and Hongkong Services, and also by the Missionary bodies amongst whom a high degree of Chinese scholarship is assiduously cultivated. Amongst the regular contributors are Drs. Chalmers, Eitel, Bretschneider, Hirth, and Hunce, Professor Legge, and Messrs Bilfour, Watters, Stent, Phillips, McLatyre, Groot, Jamiesen, Faber, Kopsch, Parker, Playfair, Giles, and Piton, -all well-known names, indicative of sound scholarship and thorough mastery of their subject. The Subscription is fixed at $6.50 per-annum, postage included - payable in advance. Orders for binding volumes will be promptly attended to; Address, "Manager, China Mail Office.'

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS." . G . S. "All our learned societies should subscribe to this scholarly and enterprising Review."-Northern Christian Advocate (U.S.)

"The China Review * * * * has an excellent table of contents."-Celestial Empire. "The Publicationalways contains subjects of interest to sojourners in the Far East and the present issue will hold favourable if not advantageous comparison, with preceding numbers."—Celestial Empire. "This number contains several articles of interest and value."—North-China Herald. "The present number of this periodical * * * * opens with a review of the Foreign Trade of China during 1880. This is rather a new departure for a publication which professes to be purely literary; but considering the comparatively small circulation it enjoys at present among the commercial communities of China, we hall the innovation as likely to recommend the Review to the notice of those who take an interest in few matters beyond mercantile pursuits."-North-China Herald.

"The China Review for September-October fully maintains the high standard of excellence which characterises that publiand altogether forms a very interesting and readable number. Me. teorologists will find an interesting and valuable contribution by Dr. Fritsche, on "the Amount of Precipitation (Rain | Four Coolies, and Snow) of Peking," showing the results of observations made at the Imperial Rus. sian Observatory at Peking, from 1841 to 1880. " Notes on the Dutch Occupation of Formosa," by Mr. Gao. Phillips, contains some interesting information; although much of it is second-hand. The Notices of New Books include a most generous and appreciative review of "The Divine Classic of Nan-Hua," and the Notes and Queries are as usual very interesting."-North-China

Daily News.

"A substantial and reliable Review which all students of China and the Chinese would do well to patronise."—Chrysanthemum. "The November-December number of the China Review contains less variety than usual, but the few articles are very interesting. The opening paper by Mr Herbert A. Giles on "The New Testament in Chinese" treats of a question that must necessarily be of great importance in the eyes of all missionaries. . . Mr E. H. Parker's "Short Journeys in Szechuen" are continued, and a goodly instalment of these travels in the interior of China is given. Mr F. H. Balfour contributes paper of some length entitled "The Emperor Cheng, founder of the Chinese Empire," which will be read with genuine interest by students of Chinese history. A few short notices of New Books and s number of Notes and Queries, one of which "On Chinese Oaths in Western Borneo and Java" might appropriately have been placed under a separate heading, complete the number."—H.K. Daily Press.

Trubner's Oriental Record contains the following notice of the China Review:-The present publication, judging by the number now before us, is intended to occupy a position, as regards China and the neighbouring countries, somewhat similar 2nd Class Cargo Boat of 600 to that which has been filled in India by the Calcutta Review. The great degree of attention that has been bestowed of late years upon the investigation of Chinese literature. antiquities, and social developments, to say nothing of linguistic studies, has led to the 3rd Class Cargo Boat or Ha-kau Boat of accumulation of important stores of information, rendering some such channel of publicity as is now provided extremely desirable ; and contributions of much interest may fairly be looked for from the members of the foreign consular services, the Chinese Customa' corps, and the missionary body, among whom a high degree of Chinese scholarship is now assiduously cultivated, and who are severally represented in the first number of the Review by papers highly creditable to their respective authors Some translations from Chinese novels and plays are marked by both accuracy and freshness of style; and an account of the career of the Chinese poet-statesman of the eleventh contury, Su Tung po, by Mr. E. C. Bowrs, is not only historically valuable, but is also distinguished by its literary grace. Beside notices of new books relating to China and the Reat, which will be a useful feature of the Review, if carried out with punctuality and detail, we are glad to notice that , Notes and Queries are destined to find a place in its pages also. It is to be hoped that this opening for contributions on Chinese subjects may evoke a similar degree of literary zeal to that which was displayed during the lifetime of its prede-ressor in the field; and that the China Report may receive the support necessary to insure at the Sailor's Home, West Point, Visitors' Column.

We have instituted as an experiment VISITORS' COLUMN, which we trust will prove successful, and be found use-To it will be relegated from time to time such items of information, lists, tables and other intelligence as is considered likely to prove valuable to persons passing through the City, and in connection with we have opened SELECT HOTEL AND BUSINESS DIRECTORY, applications for enfolment into which we are now ready to receive.
